iPad must be the first choice when you want to buy a tablet because it's one of the most fantastic tablets in the world. However, if you have both an Android device and an iPad, it may be difficult for you to transfer data like photos from Android to iPhone or iPad. In this passage, you will get the top 3 tools about how to transfer photos from Android to iPad without computer. Alternatively, a professional tool is also introduced to help you transfer photos from Android to iPad with computer. Tool 1. Transfer photos from Android to iPad via Move to iOS If you just got a new iOS device, Apple provides you an official tool to switch to a new iPad or iPhone, which is named Move to iOS. However, please note that besides photos, everything will be transferred from Android to iPad via Move to iOS. Before trying this app, there are some preparations you need to do: ❶ If you have set up your iPad, you need to erase it and start over by going to Settings > General > Reset > Erase All Contents and Settings. If there is something you don't want to lose, backup iPad and restore it later. ❷ Make sure you have turned on the Wi-Fi on the Android device, and download Move to iOS from Google Play Store on Android in advance. ❸ Plug both your Android device and iPad into power to make sure they won't be power-off during the process. Now, follow the steps below to transfer photos from Android to iPad via Move to iOS. Step 1. Power on your iPad, and follow the setup to choose language, region, and Network. Step 2. When you see the App & Data screen, choose Move data from Android. Step 3. On your Android device: Open Move to iOS app > Tap Continue > Read the terms and conditions that appear and tap Agree > Tap Next in the top-right corner of the Find Your Code screen. Step 4. On your iPad: Tap Continue on the Move from Android screen > Wait for a ten-digit or six-digit code to appear. Step 5. On your Android device: Enter the code that appears on iPad > Wait for the Transfer Data screen to appear > Choose the content you want to transfer and tap Next. How much time the process takes depends on the amount of your contents, so if you have a lot of data on your Android device, please wait patiently. When you can see the loading bar on iPad, tap Done, and complete the setup process. Notes: • On your Android device, the Move to iOS app should stay onscreen the whole time, which means any operations or phone calls will break off the process. • The Wi-Fi condition and an enabled cellular data connection may influence the process. Tool 2. Transfer photos from Android to iPad with Send Anywhere If you have once used iOS devices, you must be familiar with AirDrop. Send Anywhere are seen as one of the best AirDrop alternatives for Windows, Android, and iOS device. What makes it different is that Send Anywhere allows you to transfer files without the limitation of distance. Step 1. Download Send Anywhere for Android and for iOS > Open Send Anywhere on both Android device and iPad. Step 2. On the Android device, go to the Photos tap to choose photos as you like > Tap Send. Now, Send Anywhere will show you a 6-digit code, a QR code, and a Share Link on Android device. Step 3. On your iPad, tap Receive > Choose to input the key, scan the QR code, etc. to receive photos. Note: • If you choose to input the 6-digit key to transfer photos, you need to be noted that the key can only be used within 10 minutes. • Send Anywhere provides you 10 GB of storage space for free, which may be enough for most users. However, if you ask for more space to transfer more files, you may need to pay $5.99 monthly. After paying for the bill, you may also get faster transfer speed and customizable expiration time, etc. Tool 3. Transfer photos from Android to iPad by SHAREit SHAREit is kind of similar to Send Anywhere, which can enable you to transfer photos from Android to iPad wirelessly. You can transfer individual photos or an entire folder to iPad by using SHAREit. However, when you transfer the entire folders, the transfer speed may slow down. Here are tutorials about how to transfer photos from Android to iPad wirelessly by SHAREit. Step 1. Download SHAREit for Android and for iPad, and open it on both Android device and iPad. Step 2. On your Android device, tap Send > Select the photos you want to transfer and tap SEND. Step 3. Tap CONNECT TO iOS/WP when you be given a blue screen on Android device, then a mobile hotspot name and password will show up. Step 4. On your iPad, connect to the hotspot > Open SHAREit and tap Receive. Note: There are many users who complain that the ads in SHAREit annoy them too much. Therefore, if you mind the ads, you can try other tools on this passage. If you want to transfer photos from Android to iPhone wirelessly, the tools above are also suitable. Bonus: How to transfer photos from Android to iPad with computer You may be clear that a wireless connection cannot always be as stable as people wish. Actually, there is a much professional transfer tool - FoneTool - for you to transfer photos from Android to iPad with computer quickly and selectively. What you can get in FoneTool < Fast transfer speed. For example, you can finish transferring 100 photos in 2 seconds. < Multiple functions. Therefore, I'm inclined to choose FoneTool to transfer photos and other useful data from Android to iPad with computer. If this guide helps you, share it with more people. Something went wrong. Wait a moment and try again. (Image credit: Future) Moving your photos, contacts, calendars, and accounts from your old Android phone or tablet to your new iPhone or iPad is easier than ever with Apple's Move to iOS app. Apple's first Android app hooks your old Android and new Apple device together over a direct Wi-Fi connection and transfers over all your data. But keep in mind that you can only transfer data from an Android phone or tablet to an iPhone or iPad running iOS 9 or higher. If you've got the new iPhone 13, iPhone 13 Pro, or iPhone 13 Pro Max, you'll have no problem. NOTE: While moving to iOS app transfers a lot of your data, it doesn't transfer your apps, music, or any of your passwords as they are not compatible. Move to iOS (Android app) How to move your data from Android to iPhone or iPad with Move to iOS Follow the prompts to set up your new iPhone or iPad until you reach the screen titled "Apps & Data". Tap the "Move Data from Android" option. On your Android phone or tablet, open the Google Play Store and search for Move to iOS. Open the Move to iOS app listing. Tap Install. Choose Open after it's installed. Tap Continue on both devices. On your Android device, enter the six-digit code displayed on the iPhone or iPad. After entering the code, the Android device will connect with your iPhone or iPad over a peer-to-peer Wi-Fi connection and determine what data will be transferred. Press Continue on the Android Device to continue.Keep the phones next to each other and then select Connect.It will ask you what data you want to be transferred.This includes things like contacts, calendar, Google Account, Camera Roll, and more. Select everything you want to move over then tap Continue.It will take time to transfer your data so keep the phones near each other and leave them alone. The more data you have to transfer the longer it will take. Press Done once the transfer completes.Now move over to the iPhone and press Continue Setting Up iPhone.Continue to follow the iPhone prompts to finish setting up your phone.How long the transfer process takes varies depending on how much data you're transferring — especially if you were storing a lot of photos and videos. We transferred roughly 400MB of files, and it took about 8 minutes from starting the setup process on iPhone to entering account passwords.Our top equipment picksIf you're transferring your Android to an iPhone or iPad, you're going to need these tools to get you there. Ready to transfer to iOS? Download the Move to iOS app to get help switching from your Android device to your new iPhone, iPad, or iPod touch. On your Android device, make sure that Wi-Fi is turned on. Plug your new iOS device and your Android device into power. Make sure that the content you're moving, including what's on your external Micro SD card, will fit on your new iOS device If you want to transfer your Chrome bookmarks, update to the latest version of Chrome on your Android device. On your Android device, open the Move to iOS app. If you don't have the Move to iOS app, you can tap the QR code button on your new iOS device and scan the QR code using the camera on your Android device to open the Google Play Store. Tap Continue, and read the terms and conditions that appear. To continue, tap Agree. On your iOS device, tap Continue when you see the Move from Android screen. Then wait for a ten-digit or six-digit code to appear. If your Android device shows an alert that you have a weak internet connection, you can ignore the alert. Enter the code on your Android device. Your iOS device will create a temporary Wi-Fi network. When asked, tap Connect to join that network on your Android device. Then wait for the Transfer Data screen to appear. On your Android device, select the content that you want to transfer and tap Continue. Then—even if your Android device shows that the process is complete—leave both devices alone until the loading bar that appears on your iOS device finishes. Keep your devices near each other and plugged in to power until the transfer completes. The whole transfer can take a while, depending on how much content you're moving. Here's what gets transferred: contacts, message history, camera photos and videos, photo albums, files and folders, accessibility settings, display settings, web bookmarks, mail accounts, WhatsApp messages and media, and calendars. If they're available on both Google Play and the App Store, some of your free apps will also transfer. After the transfer completes, you can download any free apps that were matched from the App Store. After the loading bar finishes on your iOS device, tap Done on your Android device. Then tap Continue on your iOS device and follow the onscreen steps to finish setup for your iOS device. Make sure that all of your content transferred. Music, books, and PDFs need to be moved over manually. Need to get the apps that were on your Android device? Go to the App Store on your iOS device to download them. Make sure that you leave both devices alone until the transfer finishes. For example, on your Android device, the Move to iOS app should stay onscreen the whole time. If you use another app or get a phone call on your Android before the transfer finishes, your content won't transfer. On your Android device, turn off apps or settings that might affect your Wi-Fi connection, like the Sprint Connections Optimizer or the Smart Network Switch. Then find Wi-Fi in Settings, touch and hold each known network, and forget the network. Then try the transfer again. Restart both of your devices and try again. On your Android device, turn off your cellular data connection. Then try the transfer again.
